1. Highlight

FY2016 Results Main Points

In FY2016, operating revenue increased by ¥19.7 billion YoY due to increases in TA-Q-BIN delivery volume in the Delivery Business and steady growth in the non-delivery businesses. Although cost controls had the desired effect relative to TA-Q-BIN delivery volume, operating income decreased by ¥0.4 billion YoY for the full year of FY2016, partially because growth achieved by the new TA-Q-BIN services failed to make up for the adverse impact of discontinuing the Kuroneko Mail service.

Trends of Delivery Business

- As for TA-Q-BIN trends in FY2016, delivery volume was firm with a gain of 6.7% YoY due to increased shipments for mail-order customers, particularly involving large-lot business, and growing delivery volume handled through the new services. On the other hand, unit price decreased by 2.9% YoY amid a shift in the product mix.
- Kuroneko DM-Bin volume decreased by 19.2% in comparison with volume of the Kuroneko Mail service in the previous fiscal year. Unit price decreased by 6.6% YoY amid a shift in the product mix.

Trends of Non-Delivery Business

- BIZ-Logistics Business Revenue and income increased due to factors such as progress made in expanding sales for mail-order-related services, and firm results with business involving logistics for medical service providers.
- Home Convenience Business Revenue and income increased due to robust performance from office-related services, procurement services and other operations. On the income front, profitability improved due to gains in rates of capacity utilization on weekdays.
- e-Business Revenue and income increased due to progress made in expanding sales of e-money settlement system in the amusement industry, along with strong results from setup and logistics services geared toward mobile virtual network operators.
- Financial Business Revenue increased amid strong results from the lease business, however, income decreased due to lackluster revenue from the TA-Q-BIN Collect business.
- Autoworks Business Revenue and income decreased largely due to the negative effect of lower unit prices on fuel sales.

[Results main points]

(1) In FY 2016, revenues increased but income decreased YoY

Although financial results in the first half were adversely affected substantially by discontinuance of the Kuroneko Mail service and delays in achieving sales of new TA-Q-BIN services, earnings largely rebounded in the second half due to growth in TA-Q-BIN services and the non-delivery businesses, and success with cost controls.

(2) Operating revenue: Increased due to growth in the TA-Q-BIN services and the non-delivery businesses (↑ ¥19.7 billion).

Operating revenue exceeded forecasts as of 3Q.

(3) Operating income: Despite effectiveness of cost controls, operating income decreased because growth achieved by the new TA-Q-BIN services failed to make up for adverse effects of discontinuing the Kuroneko Mail service.

¥557 (YoY ↓ 3.6%)
- Kuroneko DM-Bin units (forecast)

[Operating results forecast by business segment]

(1) Consolidated operating revenue

We anticipate continuing increases in operating revenue amid gains in TA-Q-BIN delivery volume and growth in non-delivery businesses.

(2) Consolidated operating income

- Despite the likelihood of lower operating income due to higher expenses mainly attributable to external factors (¥8.0 billion), operating income excluding external factors is likely to amount to a record high of around ¥72.0 billion.
- The first half forecast is somewhat optimistic, the second half forecast is conservative.

→ Due to repercussions of the leap year and likelihood of increases in fuel expenses (second half of the fiscal year)

Increase of external factors (first half forecast: ¥2.5 billion; second half forecast: ¥5.5 billion)

(3) Delivery Business

- With respect to TA-Q-BIN services, TA-Q-BIN parcel delivery volume is likely to increase as a result of having more new services and a greater number of shipments involving mail-order customers, mainly to large-lot clients, while the unit price is likely to decrease due to a shifting product mix.
- With respect to Kuroneko DM-Bin services, delivery volume is likely to decrease largely because of a shrinking direct mail market, and the unit price is likely to fall due to a shifting product mix.
- Revenues are likely to increase overall due to increasing TA-Q-BIN delivery volume.
- Earnings are likely to decrease due to substantial effects of increased costs attributable to external factors resulting from expanded eligibility for social insurance and higher taxes incurred with respect to the size-based enterprise tax, given the large size of our workforce and our many business locations.

(4) Non-delivery businesses

- Revenues and income are likely to increase in the non-delivery businesses overall as we promote business models that generate high added value while pursuing reforms on the cost front.
- We will invest in research and development involving new technologies centered on the e-Business segment.
