1. Qualitative Information on Settlement of Accounts for the Three Months

(1) Explanation of operating results

During the three months ended June 30, 2017, the economic environment was plagued by ongoing uncertainties ahead due to factors that have included effects of political developments overseas, yet gradual economic recovery held course amid underlying strengths in corporate earnings. Moreover, the logistics industry continues to face a severe business environment partially due to tightening of the domestic labor market, which is in addition to an upward trend with respect to small parcel volume partially due to expansion of the mail order market brought about by rapidly changing styles of consumption.

Under such circumstances, the Yamato Group has been working to transform the entire Group's business model so that it will be able to keep providing high-quality services, and is accordingly placing focus on "reforming working styles" in a manner that enables a more upbeat working environment for its employees who form the cornerstone of its operations.

In the Delivery Business, we have embarked on our "structural reforms in the Delivery Business" initiatives which involve "improving and developing the employee working environment," "placing controls on total TA-Q-BIN volume," "optimizing the entire TA-Q-BIN delivery network," "boosting efficiency by enhancing the 'last mile' network," and "revising TA-Q-BIN basic fees and respective service standards." With respect to our objective of "placing controls on total TA-Q-BIN volume" in particular, we have issued requests to our large-lot corporate clients that include asking that they adjust their shipping schedules during busy seasons and cut down on re-deliveries so that we can avoid the prospect of surges in parcel volume that would cause greater employee workloads. At the same time, we are also negotiating review of our rates. However, our financial performance has been severely affected by a situation where in the course of carrying out the five structural reforms just mentioned, we continue to face a scenario where profits have been pressured by rising labor costs, including those of outsourcing workforce, in conjunction with increases in TA-Q-BIN delivery volume.

In the non-delivery businesses, results were firm since we took steps to expand our existing service offerings by enlisting the strengths of Group companies, while also drawing on Group-wide ties as we aggressively promoted solution sales geared toward addressing customers' business challenges.

In addition, we recorded payments for specially acknowledged working hours of 5,200 million yen additionally recognized as the result of further confirmation on a fact-finding investigation into working hours of employees during the three months ended June 30, 2017, which has been carried out on a Group-wide basis since the previous fiscal year.

Our consolidated financial results for the three months ended June 30, 2017 are as follows.

Initiatives for the entire Yamato Group

- a. The Yamato Group has been pursuing its "Value Networking" design, on the basis of creating business models for generating a high level of added value through the combined efforts of our respective businesses, while at the same time contributing to growth strategies and international competitive strengths of the Japanese economy. Meanwhile, we are also taking steps to forge a robust corporate culture that acts as a foundation for business creation and development.
- b. We continued to drive initiatives geared toward forging a more robust corporate culture. To that end, we worked on enhancing the efficiency and dependability of operations, in part by improving our transport systems and by using our information technology network to enable visual monitoring of operating volumes. Moreover, we actively engaged in CSR-related activities linked to Yamato Group business endeavors, such as through environmental and safety measures, and efforts to prosper communities. Moreover, we have been taking steps to develop a more employee-friendly working environment by promoting our "reforming working styles" initiatives on a Group-wide basis, with such efforts centered on the "office for reforming working styles" newly established in Yamato Transport Co., Ltd., and our "working styles innovation committees" in our respective Group companies.

- c. To further promote our "Value Networking" design, we have been crafting business models that deliver a high level of added value by leveraging the Yamato Group's business network. Also, to address varied customer needs in Japan and overseas, we will make more effective use of our innovative network platform consisting of the "Haneda Chronogate," "Atsugi Gateway," "Chubu Gateway" and "Okinawa International Logistics Hub" facilities, and "Kansai Gateway," which is scheduled to go into operation in this Autumn, in addition to our existing "last mile" network.
- d. In our business looking toward overseas markets, we have been working to forge collaboration among five regions, Japan, East Asia, South East Asia, Europe and the Americas, while strengthening our capabilities in each geographic region to respond to the growth of cross-border logistics. During the three months ended June 30, 2017, we signed a comprehensive partnership agreement in April with the leading specialist for express parcel delivery in France. The agreement was entered into for the purpose of expanding our cross-border small parcel chilled and frozen transport business between Japan and France, and contains a cross license agreement for sharing both companies' know-how with respect to small parcel chilled and frozen transport. Furthermore, in May we have been actively promoting efforts to build cross-border networks that provide substantial added-value with initiatives involving six Yamato Group companies acquiring certification under international standards pertaining to chilled and frozen goods delivery services.
- e. With the aim of improving customer convenience particularly in the mail order market, we have been working to establish an environment that ensures customers ease in picking up their parcels. Moreover, to that end we have been actively promoting efforts to build an open-type network of parcel lockers primarily in train stations, convenience stores and other such locations. Also, with our sights set on developing next-generation logistics services, collaborating with major companies that provide Internet services, in April we initiated practical trial runs of our "RoboNeko Yamato" project which involves providing on-demand delivery services that make use of automated driving technologies, in some areas of Kanagawa Prefecture. We have also been picking up the pace with initiatives geared to drawing on cutting-edge technologies with efforts in that regard that have included streamlining transportation between gateways through use of a new type of large semi-truck trailer capable of mass-volume transport, which we were the first in Japan to introduce to our operations in the previous fiscal year.

(2) Explanation of financial position

Total assets were 1,122,892 million yen as of June 30, 2017, up 8,219 million yen from the end of the previous fiscal year. The major factor in this was an increase of 5,109 million yen in deferred tax assets. Liabilities increased 20,842 million yen to 589,955 million yen from the end of the previous fiscal year. The increase was largely attributable to a 68,913 million yen gain in accrued expenses upon having recognized scheduled payments of summer bonuses and payments for specially acknowledged working hours, but was offset by a 18,603 million yen decrease in provision for bonuses, a 15,129 million yen decrease in provision for special wage payments, and a 8,825 million yen decrease in income taxes payable due to the payment of income taxes.

Total net assets were 532,936 million yen, down 12,622 million yen from the end of the previous fiscal year. This was mainly attributable to a decrease in retained earnings of 13,459 million yen due to the recording of loss attributable to owners of parent of 7,937 million yen and payment of dividends of surplus of 5,519 million yen.

Accordingly, the equity ratio changed to 46.9% from the previous fiscal year's 48.4%.

(3) Explanation of consolidated earnings forecasts and other forward-looking statements

Going forward, the economic situation is likely to remain one that is plagued by ongoing uncertainties ahead due to factors such as effects of political developments overseas, despite the prospect of gradual economic recovery holding course amid underlying strengths in corporate earnings.

The severe business environment affecting the logistics industry is likely to persist amid factors that include further tightening of the domestic labor market, amid a continued upward trend with respect to small parcel volume brought about by rapidly changing styles of consumption and other such trends.

In that environment, we will engage in "reforming working styles" and endeavor to improve and develop the working environment across the entire Yamato Group, while in the Delivery Business working to achieve sustainable growth and enhance profitability in order to improve corporate value by promoting our "structural reforms in the Delivery Business." In the fiscal year ending March 31, 2018, we expect that the severe business environment will persist during the first half, during which time we will carry out negotiations on volumes, pricing and other matters during the period amid continuing upward momentum with respect to total TA-Q-BIN volume. Beginning in the second half, however, we expect there to be a trend of recovering earnings amid a scenario where initiatives involving controls on total volume and pricing begin taking effect, thereby helping to curb subcontracting expenses and other such costs.

The Yamato Group has made changes to the consolidated earnings forecasts for the half year and for the full year of the fiscal year ending March 31, 2018 since the announcement made on April 28, 2017.
